Question of Veracity Between Andrews and the Paymaster.

their refusal to work. Yesterday was the regular pay day at the various stables of the Street-Cleaning Department, and when the men as-sembled at 3.30 P. M. to get the money due them they were informed that, owing to somebody's neglect, the money was not ready and could not be paid until this afternoon.

The officers of the union were notified, and after consultation they sent word to Commissioner Andrews that unless the money was paid last night the men would to-day refuse to work.

The threat does not seem to have disturbed the Department officials, and they seemed to be greatly surprised when then learned this morning that the men had actually refused to work unless they got their money.

The strike centred at East Seventeenth street and Avenue C, where Stable A, the lergest in the city, is situated. It was there that committees from the strikers at the other stables met this morning to confer with the officials of the Street-Cleaning Department.

Supt. Robbins was notified of the strikers at the other stables met this morning to confer with the officials of the Street-Cleaning Department, Dwe cannot pay our money until we greetve the payrous we pay the men."

The employees of the Street-Cleaning Department are paid every Wednesday for work performed up to the preceding morning. The Department has ample time from Friday morning of each week until the following Tuesday night in which to make out the payroil, which is sent to the city paymaster, for the payment of the men on Wednesday.

strike would be inaugurated this morning. At the Department Headquarters this morning Chief Clerk Scully said to an "Evening World" reporter:

"I have just been notified that City Paymaster Timmerman will pay all the employees of the Department to-day, including drivers, sweepers and the extra men enployed for shovelling snow. If there should be a serious strike the men could not be replaced except by regularly appointed men, and this would take some time."

At the entrance to Commissioner Andrews's office in the new Supreme Court Building this sign has been posted:

The dealings were attended with considerable excitement, and the ground and jofty tumbling of the stock finally hurt the general market.

The brokers are hoping that the Senate Finance Committee will not longer delay its report, as the uncertainty plays right into the hands of unscrupulous speculators and is harmful to the business of the commission houses.

An Unfortunate Time for the Dissensions in the Irish Party.

LONDON, March 8.-The First Cabine Council under the Presidency of Lord Rosebery was held at noon to-day. The Ministers were mainly occupied with drafting the Queen's speech, which is to be delivered upon the approaching opening of Parliament. This speech it is said, will be a most important docuent, as it will practically open a new chapter in the history of the United Kingdom. Considerable interest is manifested in the coming speech, not mly among the Liberals, Conservatives and other parties represented in Par lament, but among the Queen's subjects at large continued dissension in the ranks of the McCarthyites, and the Healyites, who number twenty-six, have decid above 56 degrees shall pay a duty of 4 ed that unless Lord Rosebery is prepared to give the most explicit assurances in regard to Home Rule and the Evicted Tenants' measure, they will divide against the Government.

It is reported that, if the Dillonites show any inclination to carry matters with a high hand at the coming meet the party, Messrs. Healy and Arthur O'Connor will refuse to serve any longer on the Committee. In that event is added. Messrs. Esmonde and will resign the duties whips, and important changes in the ommittee are predicted.

It is said that Michael Davitt will again be a candidate for election to the House of Commons.

It is unfortunate at this critical period n history that there should be dissen ions in the Irish Parliamentary ranks, as even the Conservatives admit that the constant and admirably conducted warfare waged by the representatives of the Irish people in Parliament has finally resulted in practically convincing the Tories that Ireland must have Home Rule in some shape or form.

So long as the Irish demands are re fused British legislation can only be edious and unsatisfactory process, and he Irish Parliamentary party, acting verturn Lord Rosebery's Governmen inless the new Premier has succeeded which would amount to completely dropping the Home Rule question. This, is thought, is not likely to be possible and thus it is that the Irish now have the best of all opportunities of assert ing their strength and winning the measure of self-government, which all y entitled to.
